

Aditi Singh

b. 1976, in Gauhati, India

Aditi Singh is a contemporary artist, whose works have been exhibited extensively in solo and group exhibitions across the world. In the past one year, she has had a solo show titled So Much the Less Complete in New York at Thomas Erben Gallery and at Art Cologne, Germany.

Other notable exhibitions over the last decade include: DECK, Singapore; Chemould Prescott Road, Mumbai; Thomas Erben Gallery, New York; SOMA Drawing Museum, Seoul, South Korea; National Museum of Modern Art, Tokyo; Museum of Modern Art, Kyoto, Gallery Barry Keldoulis, Sydney; and Arthur Ross Gallery, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, USA. Her works are also well received every year at prestigious fairs - Art Basel Hong Kong, Miami, FIAC, Cour Carre de Louvre, Paris, amongst others.

Singh's works are held in several public and private collections, including the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, William Davoli Collection, and the Kiran Nadar Museum of Art, New Delhi. She has been the recipient of a Ford Fellowship, studying Italian Renaissance Art & Architecture. Singh studied painting at the New York Studio School of Painting, Drawing & Sculpture, subsequently earning an M.F.A. at the University of Pennsylvania in 2001.

Aditi lives and works in Mumbai, India.